

Lesson 7.2 Pronouns

(pp. 143-144)

One sentence contains an indefinite pronoun

that has no antecedent.

Exercise 1 Identifying Pronouns

Label each underlined pronoun. Write PER for a personal pronoun, POS for a possessive pronoun, and IND for an indefinite pronoun.

1. The movie our science class watched was about extreme	weather.
2. Everyone probably knows that a hailstone consists of ice
3. Its shape varies, from round to spiky and irregular.
4. The movie taught me that hail forms in storm clouds.
5. As a frozen water droplet gets heavy, it starts to fall.
6. Large hailstones can injure people and damage their proj	erty.
7. They can hurtle to the ground at a speed of 90 mph.
8. One of the largest hailstones ever weighed 1.67 pounds.
9. No one in the class has ever been in a hailstorm.
10. The teacher let us touch a real hailstone.

EXERCISE 2 Recognizing Pronouns and Antecedents

In each sentence, underline the pronoun, and circle the antecedent if there is one. If a sentence has no pronouns, write NONE.

- 1. In 2000, a large icy object did major damage when it struck a car.
- 2. Scientists determined the chunk fell from the sky, but they didn't know why.
- 3. The day was clear and sunny, and there were no storms.
- 4. Everyone wondered what made the icy mass fall.
- 5. A Spanish scientist studied the object to determine its origin.
- 6. Jesús Martínez-Frías was his name.
- 7. More icy balls have fallen, but their origin is still a mystery.
- 8. Scientists call the objects megacryometeors.
- 9. More than fifty of the big objects have been recorded worldwide.
- 10. Did the ice chunks fall from planes, or are they comets or giant hailstones?